DETAILED ACTION

Claims 1-10 are pending as originally filed

Drawings

End plate 12 in the figures shows the feed/retentate/filtrate ports, whereas the specification describes them as on end plate no. 13. Also, reference numerals in the figures do not match with that of the corresponding descriptions in the specification at many places. Correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negatived by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 1-10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Latour et al (US 4,849,102) and/or Friedman (US 4,715,955).

Claim interpretation: The preamble of claim 1 recites a filtration housing for accommodating filtration cassettes, but also describes the details of the cassettes. It is unclear what applicant intended to claim: the filtration housing or the combination of cassettes and the housing? The broadest reasonable interpretation of the claim, the filtration housing, is being considered for examination. Details of the cassette recited are assumed as for explanation purpose only.

Art Unit: 1797

Latour teaches a filtration housing and cassette assembly (12, see figures), in which the housing comprises first and second parallel plates (11,13,14), plate 11 having feed inlet (19) and retentate outlet (20) channels at opposite edges, and filtrate channels (21,22) having first portions (49,50) and second transverse portions (connecting 49 to 54 and 50 to 52) as claimed. These channels communicate with the respective feed, retentate and filtrate channels of the cassettes. The plates are movable on frames to change the number of cassettes loaded as desired.

The teaching of the reference differs from the claims in the 'acute' orientation of the channels, and on filtrate outlet being on a major sidewall. The plate (11) of Latour is also a central plate (communication to the filter cassettes from both major surfaces), whereas the applicant depicts it as an end plate (communication to the cassettes only from one major surface). Latour refers to Friedman and teaches his design as an improvement over that of Friedman, who has the plate with inlet and outlet channels at and end. However, such differences are only obvious design changes in shape and orientation, which one of ordinary skill in the art is capable of; and are not patentable unless can be shown otherwise. Changes of size, shape, etc without special functional significance are not patentable. Research Corp. v. Nasco Industries, Inc., 501 F2d 358; 182 USPQ 449 (CA 7), cert. denied 184 USPQ 193; 43 USLW 3359 (1974).
